FOOL TAKES POISON. Quarrels With His Best Girl and Attempts Suicide.

Ralph Green, a boilermaker's helper who came here from Douglas, Ariz., s few days ago, tried to commit suicide last night by taking strychnine, and he would have succeeded but for the fact that the police learned of his condition, and called Dr. C. C. Benedict, who are and called Dr. C. C. Benedict, who aterally pulled the man from the brink of the grave. Green, who is but 23 years of age, had been on a protracted spree, and had quarreled with his sweetheart, whose name he refuses to give. He became despondent and concluded to shuffle off this mortal coil. Going to a friend's room he took a large dose of strychnine. The poison did not act quickly so he took another dose. That is the last he remembers. When he regained consciousness, he found himself in the hospital at the police station early this morning, with Dr. Denedict working over him. He is now out of danger but not out of jail, and he will be held pending a further investigation into his case.

CONDITIONS IN DIXIE.

Lack of Moisture Retards Crop Growth -New Canal Built.

Apostle Rudger Clawson and Elder Henry F. McCune have just returned from an extended tour of the south. While absent they attended the Panguitch, Kanab, St. George and Parowan stake conferences, and held meetings in guitch, Kanab, St. George and Parowan stake conferences, and held meetings in most of the wards in the section visited. They had a pleasant time and report a good spirit among the Saints.

Apostle Clawson says the crops in Panguitch, Kanab and Parowan stakes are in good condition, but in the St. George country a lack of moisture has done much to retard growth and the outlook is somewhat discouraging. However, conditions are more promising for the future, as the people have just built what is known as the Hurricane canal, which taps the Virgen river and will water 2,000 acres of fine land. The building of the canal has been an herculean task for the residents of that section, as money is scarce and already it has cost them the sum of $75,000, but it is believed, now that it is practically completed, that it will well repay them for the effort. In the canyon near the canal a new word, the La Virkin, has been organized, with Morris Wilson as Bishop. While its membership is not large it bids fair to grow in the near future, as the prospects there were never more promising than they are now.

Elder Clawson reports a pleasant trip although he says that when they left St. George the temperature was 112 degrees in the shade, making it somewhat oppressive. He says the road between Kanab and Mt. Carmel is very sandy and dusty, as is also that from Cedar to Laund, making traveling more or less disagreeable.

HOW SHIPMENTS WERE SECURED.

Inside History of the Success of Eastern Agents in the Utah Field.

STORY OF THE WOOL SEASON.

Bright Scheme Alleged to Have Been Worked So as to Evade the Elkins Law.

Now that the season is over and some of the eastern lines secured more than their share of the consignments of some 8,500,000 pounds of wool from Utah, the story of how they obtained the business is benig told by less successful rivals. It is another case of exemplification of the old saying that there never was a law made but there was a way to get around it. Incidentally there is some talk of suit being brought in the United States court against one railroad or its agents for the violation of the Elkins bill, but then, this is mostly talk.

It will be recalled that last year there was considerable agitation relative to the Elkins bill and the question as to whether it was lawful within the meaning of the act to load wool for the ship-It was decided early in the season that it was not mete and proper for the railroad agent to do the loading and that it was up to the buyer to do the hustling, checking and other work which usually fell to the lot of the tra-which usually fell to the lot of the traveling freight agent.

It is now stated that this year, in a number of cases, the shipper was approached with the statement that it would be impossible for the company to do the loading—as impossible as it would be to cut the rate. After considerable beating about the bush, however, the offer was made that the road would give a certain amount per car to "enable" the shipper to load his own car. If during the keen competition the agent was buncoed into giving the woolman more than it cost him in actual labor, of course he was careless and liable to be reprimanded. However, as he got the business, this crime might have been overlooked.

It is cause for congratulation that veling freight agent.

It is cause for congratulation that those accused are agents of lines east of the river. The home railroad agents, like Caesar's wife, are above suspicion.

SOME INDUCEMENTS.

Entertainment Galore for Passengers on The North Coast Limited.

D. E. Burley, Maj. Hooper and other busiling passenger agents of the west will have to look to their laurels because the Northern Pacific man has got them scooped to a frazzle when it comes to attractions and entertainment for tourists. How is this for enterprise:

Passengers coming in from the west n the North Coat limited Saturday on the North Coat limited Saturday night relate several unusual incidents that happened between Bearmouth and Butte, which furnished amusement and topics for conversation among those on board the train, says the Butte Miner to hand. Near Bearmouth two dear were scared up by the train and for some distance they ran in front of the engine. The whistle was blown in an effort to frighten the animals he track and one of them came the track and one of them camp near being run down by the engine. As the train was entering Butte the pas-sengers were treated to the sight of two buildings on fire and just before the train reached the city, a woman in one of the coaches gave birth to a child.

THE VERY LATEST.

Sanpete Valley to Change Hands-Moffat Said to be in It.

The latest wild rumor which is going the rounds is to the effect that the Sanpete Valley road is to change hands in the near future and that a syndicate of Utah men is going to take hold of the proposition. In this connection there is a story to the effect that the real power at the back of the move is the Moffat road and that under an agreement with Clarke and Harriman, Moffat will eventually take the right of way of the Sanpete Valley and the San Pedro north from Nephi to Salt Lake, the Salt Lake Route using the Leamington cut-off as its main line through to California. The latest wild rumor which is going

The story is given for what it is worth. Needless to say it is emphatically deled here by interested parties.

Owing to representations made by a number of residents of Utah, the Oregon Short Line will on August 6, run an excursion to Raymond, Alberta, Canada. The fare for the occasion will be $31.35 for the round trip. Presidency. A FERTILE ACRE.

A California reader sends a note from the San Francisco Call in which the wonderful performance of Samuel C. Cleek on an acre of ground is detailed: "Mr. Cleek died a short time ago of old age, and his fertile acre is now run by his wife, who survives him. This farm is a most remarkable example of what can be accomplished through irrigation and intensive cultivation of the soil. Mr. Wright took an inventory of what it contained. Almost every foot of the acre farm is utilized. Here is what is on the farm at the present time: Cottage and porches, 30 by 30 feet; barn and corral space, including chickencoops, etc., 75 by 75 feet; two windmill towers, 15 by 16 feet each; garden, 46 by 94 feet, biackberry patch, 16 by 90 feet; strawberries, 65 by 90 feet, Citrus nursery, 90 by 98 feet, in which there are 400 budded orange trees; a row of dewberries along the fence, 100 by 2 feet; four apricot trees, two oak trees, three peach trees, six fig trees; 10 locust trees; seven Eucalypus trees, one paradise tree, four bearing bread-fruit trees, 30 rose bushes, 20 geraniums, 12 lemon trees seven years old, a lime tree from which was sold last year 160 dozen limes, eight bearing orange trees, five what can be accomplished through irlimes, eight bearing orange trees, five pomegranate trees, six beds of violets six by two feet each, one patch of bam-boo, one bed of calla lillies, four prune trees, six cypress trees, 14 stands of bees, four huge grapevines, one bed of sage, one seed bed, besides honeysuckles and many rare shrubs. In 1877 Mr. Cleek purchased his acre of land in the corner of a dusty, glaring field of stubble. It was a big weat field, from which the crop had been just cut. It was remote from dwellings and was about as barren and uninviting a place upon which to start a home as can be imagined. There was no running water on the place and from May until November rain does not usually fall, although in the winter time, the rains are generous. Mr. Cleek had but a few Robinson Crusoe did not de more on his desert isle than did Samuel Cleek on his dusty acre of stubble. At the time of Mr. Cleek's death he left almost $4,000. Mr. Cleek was ill at times and then, Mr. Cleek was ill at times and then, too, he was always anxious to reinvest the profits of his unique acre."

It seems as if nearly every community can show a man who has done wonders on a small garden spot. The crop may be vegetables or hens or fruit, but by handling his littde place so that every square foot counts the man has been able to support himself and more. Sometimes he does this and actually lends money to neighbors who work 10 times as much land as he does. It is lends money to neighbors who work 10 times as much land as he does. It is good to talk about these things. They show farmers what can de done if the soil is handled intelligently. They also go to prove what most of us know; that we usually try to work too much land. The result is that little if any of it is properly handled, and of course we fall short of full grons. Now that we fall short of full crops. Now that labor is so hard to find many of us would be far better off to put a good share of the farm into pasture or orchards, and crowd our work and manure upon the best parts of the farm.

dollars and the home he built was, Mrs. Cleek says, "only a very small room." He dug a deep well and, being handy with carpenter's tools, erected a wind-mill which operated a homemade pump.

A RETRACTION.

(From July number "Ladies' Home Journal.")

In the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal we published, in the ar-ticle entitled "The 'Patent-Medicine' Curse," an analysis of "Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," in which that preparation was represented as con-taining, among other ingredients, tinc-ture of digitalis, tincture of opium, and ture of digitalis, tincture of opium, and alcohol. Immediately upon publication of the number a suit for damages was instituted by The R. V. Pierce Medical Company, of Buffalo, New York, proprietors of the preparation in question, against The Curtis Publishing Company, based upon the claim that none of the three ingredients was contained in the medicine. in the medicine.

Upon the filing of the suit, we, of course, immediately looked into the published analysis. It appears that this particular analysis had been made, if made at all, fully twenty-five years ago. We, thereupon employed three leading chemists in different cities to make an analysis of the preparation from bottles bought in the open market. These analyses, one and all, now show to us conclusively that not a single one of the ingredients mentioned by us in the analysis quoted—that is, either digitalis, opium or alcohol—was contained in the boides analyzed. We then—the President of this company and the writer dent of this company and the writer-personally visited The R. V. Pierce Medical Company, at Buffalo, and were there convinced that the officers of the Company were absolutely truthful in their claim that not one of these injuri ous ingredients was contained in 'tor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.' turally, since the analysis we printed has proved erroneous, the deductions made in connection with this prepara-tion were urwarranted and unfounded. Under these circumstances it is now perfectly plain to us that this magazine was unintentionally, but nevertheless absolutely misied in making the original statement, and we hereby, of our own volition, make this unqualified acknowledgment of our mistake to The R. V. Pierce Medical Company and to our readers. The mistake was honestly made, but it was a mistake.
